

{Karine Vinchon-Spehner}

Karine was born in Normandy in 1981 and has been living in the South of France since she was eleven. Her passion for the secret world of perfumery has led her to obtain a master's degree in science before being admitted at the Isipca in 2002.

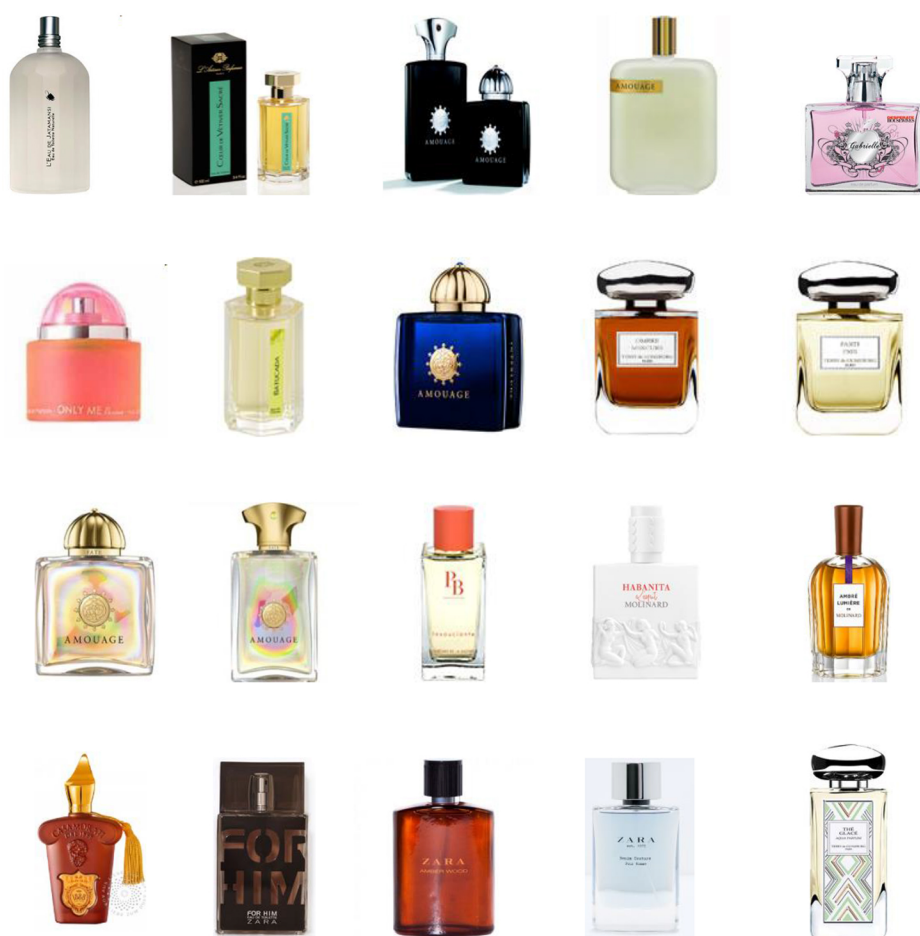

For two years (2002-2004), she was taught the bases of perfumery partly in school and partly at Robertet under the supervision of Christian Rostain.

She then began her perfumer career as the assistant of Michel Almairac and became a junior perfumer, based in Grasse, in 2006. Karine loves to work ambery and woody notes and has a special favour for Patchouli and Vetiver. She also likes to create perfumes built around an overdose of certain raw materials.

The scents of nature and her daily life experiences bring her the inspiration and creativity that characterise her creations.
